TROOPS MAY BE LANDED

INFURIATED MOBS ATTACK FACTORIES

Provincial Uprising Stamped Out.

STRONGER GUARD FOR OFFICERS IN NATIONAL HOTEL

Washington, To-day.

The aggravation of the Cuban disorders is enhanced by the possibility of the landing of United States troops, as the lives and property of Americans are increasingly jeopardised.

It is reported that infuriated mobs have attacked an American ice factory and a Spanish shoe factory at Manzanillo.

An abortive rising in the province of Pinar del Rio, although stamped out by the Government has increased the general apprehension.

A stronger guard, reinforced by machine guns has been posted over the 500 officers loyal to ex-President Carlos Cespedes y Ortiz who are still imprisoned in the Hotel Nacional.

Meanwhile, President Cram San Martine has rejected the proposal of the leaders of the political factions that he should resign in favour of Dr. Cespedes.

While stating that the United States Government did not desire to intervene, President Roosevelt declared that he would take all steps necessary to protect American lives and interests. He also expressed his determination to insist on complete proof of the ability of the new regime, under Professor Grau San Martine, to maintain order before granting United States recognition.

Thirty-nine American warships are at present in Cuban waters, while the 14-inch guns of the U.S.S. Mississippi are trained on the Hotel Nacional where the American Ambassador to Cuba, Mr. H. Sunner Wellers, and other American subjects are sheltering.

12 ARRESTED IN POLICE ROUND-UP

Dublin, Yesterday.

The boycott of British beer is completely overshadowing the political situation.

As a consequence of innumerable raids, British beer is no longer displayed in windows, but police all over the country insist on dealing with the terrorists, who, armed with sticks and mallets, lurch round the shops, awaiting signs of the appearance of British ales, whereupon they smash all visible bottles.

A large force of police scoured the south of Dublin all last night, arresting twelve suspects.—Reuter.

GERMANY WANTS ARMS EQUALITY

"Present One-Sided Defencelessness."

NO INTERFERENCE IN CONFLICT WITH AUSTRIA

Berlin, Yesterday.

"If it were thought that by the argument that Germany wanted a period of rest before resorting to a policy of violence, the domination of victors over vanquished could be perpetuated it must be decisively declared that Germany refused to put up with such a situation further."

This unequivocal statement on Germany's attitude to Disarmament was made yesterday by the Foreign Minister, Baron Von Neurath, in a speech at a reception of foreign journalists.

He declared that the only alternative to equality was the collapse of the idea of Disarmament, with tragic consequences, for which Germany would not be responsible.

"Fully armed nations," Baron Von Neurath declared, "have no right to talk to defenceless Germany like a schoolmaster. They will not be listened to in Germany."

The allegation that Germany desired to re-arm was a deliberate effort to hide the fact that her aim was merely the removal of her present position of one-sided defencelessness.

The suggestion that disarmed nations should be subjected to preliminary control prior to international control of armaments applied to all States and was unworkable, he declared.

EMPLOYMENT AND PAY ROLLS RISE IN U.S.A.

750,000 Obtain Work In August.

COAL CODE READY FOR ROOSEVELT TO SIGN

Washington, Yesterday.

Bright spots in the critical stage of America's Prosperity Drive are the August employment index, which is the highest for two years, and the pay roll figure, the highest since December, 1931.

These improvements are largely due to the drive for shorter hours. A total of 750,000 of the unemployed were re-absorbed in August.

Stressing the importance of these figures, Miss Frances Perkins, United States Secretary of Labour, warns the country against complacency, as employment is still 28 per cent. under the normal average of 1926. Pay rolls are even lower.

The coal position has brightened as a result of General Hugh Johnson's declaration that the Coal Code will unquestionably be ready for President Roosevelt, by to-night.

It is stated that President Roosevelt is adhering to the language of the Recovery Act in allowing collective bargaining, and is permitting no advance interpretations of the Labour clause until and unless specific cases arise.

He regards the Act as specifying "neither an open nor a closed shop," but as permitting Labour to bargain with employers collectively.—Reuter.

U.S. BUDGET DEFINITELY BALANCED

Income And Beer Taxes Help Treasury.

DECISION ON INFLATION WITHIN A MONTH

Washington, Yesterday.

High members of the United States Administration yesterday informed the United Press that the Government, within a month, will announce a definite monetary policy, defining the status of the dollar. They may also reveal their intention regarding actual physical inflation, if any.

Some Conservative members of the Administration reiterated that actual inflation or actual stabilisation of the dollar, in terms of gold or any other unit, are still somewhat distant.

Another high official said that the Government will use the powers of credit inflation to the limit before resorting to any process of cheapening the dollar through inflation.

Mr. William H. Woodin, United States Secretary of Treasury, yesterday, said that the Government Budget will now definitely balance, with a slight surplus.

He also said that the income tax receipts, the third installment of which was due yesterday, are increasing rapidly.

He said that the repeal of prohibition would give further help to the finances.—United Press.

Chapter V.—The Mission-Station.

(By GERALD BURRARD.)

THIS dip in the crest of the cliff staring at a rough stone-built house. An elderly gentleman was sitting with alacrity and summoned their left, and they reached it in digging in a garden in front of it. Sher Khan, who had been waiting without seeing or hearing any more signs of falling rocks. There remained a short climb up the dry bed of a mountain torrent, and the top of the cliff was gained. The scene that met their gaze was typical of the Further Himalayas. Barren shale slopes and dazzling snowfields without a sign of life. Here and there were clusters of rock, but human beings there were none.

They followed the line of the cliff until they reached a point which they judged must have been immediately above them when the rocks fell. The hard shale was not the ground to hold footprints, and for a full fifteen minutes they searched in silence. Then Geoffrey, who was filled with a great longing to find out the truth about Phyllis, could restrain his impatience no longer, and declared that they were on a wild-goose chase, and that fall of stones was a natural phenomenon after all.

"I hope you are right, sahib, but I feel you are not. Anyhow, they have eluded us for the present, so let us descend to the house of the padres-sahib."

A four-thousand-foot descent is nothing in the Himalayas, and it was not very long before Geoffrey and the Pathan were out of the door and called to the fetch the camp and coolies along as they watched, a white girl came in the background, telling him to ignore the interruption and went on: "Chini? No, no, though I know it well. I came here in the early days of the war and built this little house. I am a fair doctor, and I think I help these poor people a little. Being near the border, both Tibetans and Bhoteas come to me, as well as Kumaonis and many pilgrims. I am well content now I have my daughter with me. But come inside and rest. We were just about to have our tiffin. You will join us?"

Phyllis soon laid another place at the little table, and the meal seemed perfectly delightful to Geoffrey. It was almost over when the door was burst open and one of Geoffrey's coolies stood on the threshold.

"Sher Khan bid me run, sahib," he panted; "one of the load carriers has been killed."

"Killed!" Geoffrey sprang to his feet.

"How?"

"Shot, sahib, with a bullet."

"Where?"

"Scarce a mile back. I came quickly. It was the Pathan's order."

"Wait outside. I will come at once."

Geoffrey turned to his astonished companions: "Look here. I cannot stay with you, much as I should like to. I must take you into my confidence, but there is no time for details. I have been commissioned by the Secret Service to try to track down and break up a powerful gang somewhere in Tibet. I hoped I had eluded them, but fear I am trailed. If I stay with you I will only draw you into it, and they know no mercy. I must be off now, but I will try to send you a message."

eyes ablaze with earnestness. "I promise, but for my men's sake. If anything happens here I will never forgive myself."

Rifle in hand he stepped into the courtyard and walked quickly down the valley.

Chapter VI. PURSUIT.

Geoffrey Barracough takes shelter for the night in Mr. Merridew's missionary outpost in the border ranges. During the night, the house is attacked by a band of hillmen ordered by "The Tiger" to prevent Geoffrey crossing the border. The attackers are driven off, one being taken prisoner.

The chances of a second attack that night, or rather day, were so remote that Geoffrey allowed everyone to sleep, after taking the precaution of tying up the prisoner of his Bhote guard.

The sun was almost overhead before anyone stirred; the strain of the night had worn them completely out. Sher Khan was the first to wake, and he immediately went outside with a pair of glasses to see whether he could distinguish any further indications of the enemy. He had been searching the surrounding hills for nearly half an hour when Geoffrey joined him.

"What are you going to do with the prisoner, Sahib?"

"I don't know. I am hoping that I may be able to get some information out of him. Last night he was too terrified to be of any use."

"Those bombs were a good idea, Sahib. Never have I seen their like before. When this hunting is over, do you think I might have a box to take back to my home?"

Geoffrey laughed at the idea. "That would be a new method of settling some blood-feuds, wouldn't it? Well, I can promise nothing. You had better send in a special petition to the Viceroy. Doubtless he will accede to your request on account of services rendered."

"Ah, Sahib, you jest. But truly they are good toys. Would that I had had some in the old days."

Geoffrey went indoors once more, and as the Merridews both appeared to be still asleep, for he could hear no movement in either of their rooms, he called for the prisoner to be brought out.

Moving for Women

WOMEN CAN SAVE THE EMPIRE

by "CHYSSA"

IT is the woman who make the Empire. Patriotism, like all the virtues, needs cultivation, and although it is instinctive in a child it must be fostered by association, and stimulated by education, if it is to bear the full fruit it should.

Beyond the home, there is the nation, and British women in South China should remember that they are members of a great and glorious Empire, and that they must take an intelligent interest in matters altogether outside their everyday life.

Women are the Chancellors of the Exchequer in their homes. When they are spending the house-keeping money I must remind them that in buying British goods they are supporting labour, and encouraging British Industry. The late Duchess of Albany once said to me that in the early days the Colonies were acquired with the one view of commercial relations. But in later years this policy has been ignored. And one quarter of the inhabited world is under the British flag. It was the late Duchess of Albany who inspired His Royal Highness The Duke of York while a small boy to take an interest in Industrial affairs. Her daughter Princess Alice of Athlone is one of the finest workers for the Empire's products. They aim at rousing a more practical sense of patriotism among women, and endeavour to show them that they have exceptional opportunities of rendering invaluable service to the country, consistently with their home duties.

These thoughts occurred to me as I looked at the fine window display of

New Zealand products being exhibited by Messrs. Lane Crawford Ltd., the firm that upholds so splendidly the best that is British. But all must be loyal citizens. New Zealand produces ten-times more Dairy Produce than she can consume. The "Snowflake" full cream evaporated milk is produced from the finest dairy pastures in the world under a system of open-air grazing all the year round by herds noted for their health and vigour. Then in nutritional tests conducted in Britain, medical authorities specially choose New Zealand food products because of their high quality, and vitamin content.

These include Hellaby's Cooked Ham, The C.M.C. Ox Tongues, Whittemore's Pickles, Whittemore's Tomato Juice, Whittemore's Fruit Juices, Ozone Oysters, Oysterine Soup, "Kapal," and "Royal Taste" Honey, and many other sunshine foodstuffs which can be obtained at Messrs. Lane Crawford.

New Zealand cannot consume all she produces because she has not got the population, yet America,

Autumn Gowns Are Longer

Ankle - Length Dresses For Afternoon.

IN skirt length, one finds individuality. Women who prefer the sports type of costume often adopt a quite short skirt for street wear, sometimes 11 inches or less. Others who dress more elegantly and conservatively, are likely to prefer a longer costume, nine or 10 inches being the rule.

For formal afternoon wear, an increasing number of women are choosing ankle length gowns. This is really a much more graceful length with the Victorian details now so popular. Wide shouldered effects too seem much more correct with longer gowns. And, of course, many women realise that they themselves are more charming in the longer frocks.

Switzerland, and other foreign countries only send here what they cannot consume themselves. Apart from this, ought we not to think of the men folk who have left their homes in England to go out and settle on the farms in New Zealand? We are helping them and the Empire by buying New Zealand products.

Every British woman should be fired by the ideal that everyone must serve, and work for the good of the Colony, and the Empire.—Advt.

Accessory Craze Growing

ACCESSORIES are increasing in size and style importance. Handbags, one foot square, in cream-coloured pinwale are favourites for street wear.

Five-inch pendant earrings and sets of huge diamond crane hook and ring tackles holding up decolletés are notable evening details.

Pig skin is advancing to the style front; Patrou's natural peccary waistcoat, belt, bag and gauntlets heighten the chie of brown wool sports suits.

Fish Skin For Shoes

Dainty Leather From Young Sharks.

Did you know that fish skins make good shoe leather?

The so-called porpoise-hide boots have long been favourites with sportsmen. But the creature from which the leather is obtained is not the porpoise, but the beluga, or white whale.

Shark skins have long been used for a harsh sort of leather, which is used for sword handles and inlaid work.

The skins of very young sharks make a beautiful leather, which takes dyes remarkably well, and is, therefore, suitable for ornamental footwear.

One large whale will supply a thousand square feet or more of leather from the lining of its stomach.

The skins of various rays, including the Japanese ray, make pretty leathers, and that of the cat-fish is used for the manufacture of women's shoes.

Broadcloth Next Favourite

Bold Stripes Give Striking Tone.

BROADCLOTHS of all weights in mat and shining satin finish will come in strong for Autumn on the side of the silk fabrics.

Shaded striped broadcloth is something new; textile creators are, by the way, showing an extraordinary amount of big, bold stripes in heavy materials—woollens and velvets, as well as thick, incised satins and laces—which must mean something, though somehow we have come to associate them almost exclusively with the less formal hot-weather mode.

CLUB SOCCER: DOUBLE OVER LINCOLNS TEAMS

Premier Eleven's Big Improvement.

JUNIORS DESERVE ODD GOAL TRIUMPH

After losing to the Artillery by the odd goal last week, the Club senior soccer eleven showed much improved form yesterday to beat the Lincolns by 6 goals to 4 in their second practice match at the Valley.

The Club juniors, who beat the Artillery second string by a narrow margin last week, recorded their second success of the season when they beat the Lincolns second eleven by the odd goal yesterday.

Club 3-2 In Arrears At Interval.

HEATH SAVES PENALTY

Starting with ten men the Club were soon a goal in arrears. Duncan made a mistake and the ball went out to HOOCQUARD who closed in to beat Fowler with a fast around shot. Following Taylin's late appearance for the Club the Lincolns went further ahead when BALDRY made amends for missing badly by converting a typical Hoocquard centre with a first-time shot.

The Club were now gradually finding their feet and Heath saved well after a good movement by Blackford and Strange. After 20 minutes play E. STRANGE scored a great goal, receiving well from Howe and drilling past Dudley and Turner to give Heath no chance.

Spurred on by this success the Club levelled the scores when HOWE netted a splendid goal. E. Strange started the movement, and Duncan sent a through pass to Howe who took the ball in his stride and swerved before shooting the ball into the far corner of the net.

Their success was short-lived, however, for BALDRY scored another first-time goal from a great pass by Hoocquard.

A good piece of work between Strange and Howe resulted in the advancing Heath luckily averting Howe's shot with his foot.

The second half opened with E. STRANGE against levelling the scores; Blackford crossing and drawing Heath for Strange to put the ball through an unguarded goal.

Two glorious dribbles by Ridley revived interest in a game which has become scrappy. Fowler twice cleared good shots by throwing out the ball; but, in saving the third, COUSINS anticipated his movement and kicked the ball out of his hands into the net.

The equalising goal came a few minutes later when Heath in making a good save from Dominy, pushed the ball out to HOWE from whom it rebounded into the net.

The game was difficult to follow in the closing stages owing to bad light, but interest was heightened when E. Strange was brought down in the box. Heath, however, saved Blackford's spot-kick.

A few minutes later, however, BLACKFORD ran through to beat Heath with a glorious shot, and STRANGE finished off a good afternoon's work by beating Heath from close in to score the Club's sixth point.

Club:—S. Fowler; S. Strange, Hynes; Taylin, Skinner, Duncan; F. Fowler, Dominy, Howe, E. Strange and Blackford.

Lincolns:—Heath; Turner, Colclough; Dudley, Cork, Bett, Baldwin, Higgins, Cousins, Ridley and Horwood.

Club Junior Eleven Deserve Win.

FISHER SCORES TWO OF SIDES' THREE GOALS

The Club second string again showed splendid form when they deservedly beat the Lincolns by the odd goal in five.

Williams was prominent in the opening exchanges and FISHER opened the scoring with a glorious goal, showing a rare turn of speed to beat Wilday and Ramsden, and finish off his solo effort with a

SWIMMING TRIALS FOR THE NANKING MEET

S.G.A.A.F. Finals As Elimination Trials.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY AT C.C.S.C.

Entries Close To-day

The South China Amateur Athletic Federation's Swimming Championships will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, and will be staged in the nature of Elimination Trials for the Chinese National Meeting to be held at Nanking on October 10.

This was the decision of the meeting of the Federation's Swimming Committee, presided over by Mr. Wong Kam Ying, the Chairman, at the Chinese Bathing Club on Friday night.

Owing to lack of time the Committee have been unable to make preparations for the trials and thought that it would be an excellent idea to combine the championships with the trials and so have time.

The state of the tides and the inclement weather conditions now prevailing are responsible for the Championship Elimination trials taking place at the Chinese Civil Servants Swimming Club where deep water is available at all tides.

The Committee have decided to charge an entrance fee of 40 cents for the finals and 20 cents for the heats. The latter will take place to-morrow and on Tuesday at the same venue.

Disillusionment In Ireland.

THE prediction of an early election in the Irish Free State arouses hopes among well-wishers of Ireland that the de Valera regime will soon be ended. A little over eighteen months of the present administration has placed the country in an unhappy plight, but the people, particularly the farming community, have become increasingly restive as the economic conditions worsen, and opposition to the de Valera Government has now become formidable. Whether the feeling in the country is strong enough to force Mr. de Valera to resign is difficult to judge at this distance, but the President is reported to be losing favour with the small Labour group on whom he depends for his majority in the Dail. Unfortunately, the Labour members, normally insignificant, but now holding the balance of voting power, have their "price," and Mr. de Valera will probably continue to hold their support through concessions in the form of further Socialist legislation. But even if he survives a test in the Dail the President cannot avoid much longer facing the swelling discontent in the country, and the activities of General O'Duffy will accelerate the crisis.

The commander of the Blue Shirts has been appointed leader of the new United Ireland Party, comprised of de Valera's opponents, and drawn mainly from the Blue Shirts and the Cosgrave party. Much is expected of this new organization, which should be greatly stimulated by the energetic enthusiasm of the Blue Shirts. Mr. Cosgrave is an able and proved politician, but is lacking vigour, a quality which General O'Duffy would appear to possess in abundance. The Blue Shirts remain something of an enigma and suspicion attaches to them because of their apparent similarity to the Fascists. Despite this, however, they have won much sympathy abroad for the fact that, whatever the nature of their organization, they are antagonists to Mr. de Valera. Any alternative to the present administration would be welcomed, and in any case the new body commands respect for the meritorious restraint exercised during the recent critical period in Dublin, when open clashes between the rival factions were narrowly avoided.

The present period in Ireland may be described as one of disillusionment, and when that process is completed the early downfall of Mr. de Valera may be anticipated with some degree of certainty. Many Irishmen bitterly rue their misguided efforts in placing such a vainglorious President in office, and while predictions are always uncertain in this the youngest of the Dominions, it is most unlikely that voters will overlook the almost incredible folly displayed by Mr. de Valera during his term of office. In the election campaign in February last year Mr. Cosgrave could render an account of a stewardship conscientiously fulfilled. During the latter years of his administration the Free State enjoyed a calm and prosperity to which she had long been unaccustomed. The economic blizzard which brought about a world-wide depression had left her comparatively unscathed. But in a year and a half the progress has been largely undone. Defiantly alienating British sympathies, the de Valera Government abolished the oath of allegiance and repudiated the land annuities payable to Britain under the Anglo-Irish Treaty of 1921, thus provoking tariff reprisals which have caused heavy loss to Irish agricultural interests. Persisting in his unreasoning attitude, Mr. de Valera remains indifferent to the best interests of his country, and the only salvation of the farmers lies in a change of Government. The next few months will mark a critical and anxious period in the Free State, and it is the earnest hope of all that whatever the trend of political events the danger of a civil war will be averted.

NEW YORK SWEEPER'S "MOMENT"

Crowd Mistakes Him For General Balbo.

BEARD LEADS TO ERROR

New York.
Mr. Smythe leans on his broom at intervals and dreams of his big moment.

It was in front of the hotel in which General Italo Balbo had an engagement when in New York that Mr. Smythe reached the climax of an ordinary routine life as a sweeper.

Great crowds were gathered to catch a glimpse of the bearded Italian airmen. They were on the alert for the first sign of his starched white suit and well-trimmed beard.

About that time, Mr. Smythe wandered upon the scene in his regulation white uniform. His pall-on-wheels and his broom had been parked on another street. He was drawn from the routine of work by an urge to see what was going on.

He sauntered into the crowd. An eagle-eyed youth rushed forward and grabbed his hand, shaking it delightedly.

"Viva Italia!" the youth said.

Mr. Smythe responded to the handshake rather uncertainly, but the youth seemed to be well-intended, so the street cleaner smiled.

In a moment he was the centre of a pushing crowd, with men and women vying for a chance to shake his hand, clap him on the back or even touch the hem of his white garments. Someone led a cheer. Mr. Smythe beamed. To few men come such spontaneous applause.

They were probably waking up to the excellent job he had been doing lately on the avenue, he surmised.

Then General Balbo, his bosom shining with medals and each hair of his beard carefully arranged, drove up. The crowd, recognizing it had erred, swept toward him.

The General acknowledged the cheers and passed on into the hotel. The other bearded man in the white suit went back to his broom.

RUSSIA'S GIANT OF THE SKIES

Monoplane To Carry 70 Passengers.

NOW NEARING COMPLETION

Moscow.

A "City of the Sky" is nearing completion in the Soviet Union. It is a giant aeroplane, claimed to be the largest of its kind in the world. Experimental flight are to begin early next year.

This aeroplane is designed to carry 70 passengers and a crew of six. It will carry so much apparatus to make it self-contained that it will be almost like being in a city.

There will be:

A cinema,

A printing office,

A powerful short-wave wireless "station," and

Apparatus for "aerial bill-posting"—projecting

Advertisements on the clouds.

The machine is a monoplane with a wing-span or more than 180 feet. It will have eight engines—about 4,000 h.p. makes it possible to fly at a speed of about 150 m.p.h. The monoplane is built of duralumin.

It is intended that the new machine shall serve as a flag-ship of the squadron named after Maxim Gorly—Reuter.

TOPICS

from OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

August 21.

Cool in Crisis.

Sir Miles Lampson, who is to succeed Sir Percy Loraine as High Commissioner for Egypt and the Sudan, is six foot five and a half stones of solid British flesh and bone.

There is nothing of the highbrow about him. He is neither temperamental nor artistic. But he is one of the most competent men in a crisis that the Foreign Office has ever produced.

He is a good "mixer," with a quiet but masterful personality. But his strong suit is work. Like Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Canadian Prime Minister, he requires relays of secretaries to keep up with his tireless energy.

Trouble in Egypt.

Sir Miles is one of the few diplomats, who have been equally successful both abroad and in Whitehall.

As head of the Central European Department he did the spadework for Locarno. Abroad, he has found trouble nearly everywhere he has been en poste. He was High Commissioner in Siberia during the Kolchak period. He had seven turbulent and strenuous years in China. He is not likely to find peace in Egypt.

For the last four years that country has been tranquil, thanks largely to the ability of Sidky Pasha, the Prime Minister, who has been able to restrain the Fascist tendencies of the throne and at the same time to keep the Wafd in check.

But Sidky Pasha cannot carry on much longer. He has already had two strokes. When he goes, trouble will be inevitable.

Duke of York's Record.

It is too early to declare with any certainty that this will be a record year for grouse; conditions vary in the different districts.

That it will be above the averages, however, is clear, and both in Angus and in Aberdeenshire several local records have already been established.

Most interesting of these local records is the bag of 400 brace made by Sir Harold Werner and his party on Glenmoor, Angus.

Among the seven guns was the Duke of York.

Royal Shots.

Although the Duke of York is by far the best and the keenest shot among the King's sons he has never had the fortune to take part in any national record shoot.

Strangely enough, the Prince of Wales, who does not care for shooting, can claim this distinction.

The record bag for pheasants in Great Britain was obtained at Hall Barn, Beaconsfield, on December 28, 1918, when seven guns shot 3937 pheasants.

The seven guns included the King and the Prince of Wales, the latter then a boy of 10.

Man Behind the Screens.

Mr. Winfield Sheehan, vice-president of the Fox Film Company, is in London on a holiday. He is a small man with a Pickwickian glint in his eye. Like many another leading figure in Hollywood, he jumped from journalism into films. Before the war he was a reporter on the "New York World"; to-day he controls the production of 50 films annually, costing an average of U.S. $300,000.

Mr. Sheehan was the power behind the filming of "Cavalcade." He took the decisions, collected the stars, and inspired many of the ideas in the production. Then he spent £300,000 on it.

The Story Hunt.

Mr. Sheehan was asked whether the success of "Cavalcade" would encourage his company to tackle another British subject.

His Pickwickian glint became more intense.

"Give me the story," he said, "and I'll make the picture. In America we are prepared to go anywhere for a story. If I thought there was a story in Turkey I'd go there to-morrow."

Mr. Sheehan, as it happens, is not going to Turkey, and he states that he is going to talk over the matter.

Traffic Nerves.

Some curious facts about horses' "traffic nerves" have been recorded at Imber Court, where the Metropolitan Mounted Police riding display recently took place.

One is that trams are the pet aversion of most horses. Many a police horse can be trusted on duty in Oxford-street during the rush hour, but never near a tram-line.

"Air noises" are an ordeal to most animals, who pass every other test with flying colours often return again and again to the training-school to master the lesson of standing stock-still while an aeroplane propeller revolves overhead.

When good cooking counts.....

You know those "occasions" when your man brings an important business friend home to dinner! The meal must be perfect, but you don't want to sit down all "hot and bothered" with the cooking!

This is where the "New World" "Regulo"-controlled Gas Cooker proves its worth, for you need only get the "Regulo" oven-heat controller, place the dinner, all together, in the oven, and then leave it to cook itself, unattended, until you are ready to serve it.

Doesn't this sound marvellous? But thousands of women enjoy a new leisure by using this wonderful Cooker. See them at our showrooms.

CHINA EMPORIUM OPENEDHong Kong's Latest Shopping Centre.*SIR SHOU-SON CHOW RECEIVES GUESTS

Hong Kong's newest and most gracious shopping centre, the China Emporium, in Queen's Road Central, was officially opened to the public at noon yesterday by the hon. Sir Shou-son Chow, C.M.G., Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Within a few minutes the building was filled with thousands of spectators eager to inspect the interior of the new emporium.

The opening ceremony was performed in the restaurant on the fourth floor of the building, where were gathered the official guests, including Sir Henry Pollock and the hon. Dr. R. H. Kotewall, C.M.G., LL.D., with the Directors of the Company.

The hon. Sir Shou-son Chow made a short speech of welcome to the guests, followed by Sir Henry Pollock and the hon. Dr. Kotewall, who spoke in Chinese.

Other guests present included Mr. T. E. Pearce, of Messrs. John D. Hutchinson and Co., Mr. Keller, of Messrs. Keller, Kern and Co., and Mr. C. Little, of Messrs. Little, Adams and Wood, with the heads of several European business houses.

Presentation to Sir Shou-son As the conclusion of the ceremony Mr. W. G. Felshaw, on behalf of Messrs. Little, Adams and Wood, the architects of the building, presented Sir Shou-son Chow with a silver cigarette box, suitably inscribed.

Chairman's Speech

Sir Shou-son Chow, welcoming the guests, said:—As you all know, there are already several other departmental stores in different parts of the Colony, but the locality we have chosen is, we think, one that serves a large section of the community and is particularly convenient to residents of the Middle Level and the Central part of the City.

Scope for New Enterprises.
It is not our intention to enter into competition with other departmental stores, as we feel that Hong Kong is, after all, not so small a place as not to admit of the establishment of another emporium such as ours. I, for one, feel that, in spite of the general depression, there is still ample scope in the Colony for the promotion of legitimate business enterprises.

It is true that Hong Kong, like the rest of the world, has not escaped the depression, but we have no reason to be pessimistic. World economic problems will find a solution sooner or later, and it is only a question of time when Hong Kong will regain its former prosperity.

We have seen many imposing buildings erected in the Colony in recent years. Ours is a combination of Chinese and Western architecture, designed and supervised by Messrs. Little, Adams & Wood to whom my fellow-Directors and I wish to tender thanks and congratulations on the successful completion of their difficult task.

We have this day launched a new enterprise—an entirely new business in a new building, stocked with new goods, run by a new staff. As everything is new to us, I fear that, at the beginning, we may not be able to come up to your expectations, and I therefore crave your indulgence, which I feel we shall have.

It only remains for me to assure the public of our best services in every respect, and our earnest endeavours to live up to our motto, which is "Efficiency and Courtesy."

"Buy British"

Sir Henry Pollock replying on behalf of the guests, said:

There can be no doubt, from the inspection which I have made of these premises, that we have here a very up-to-date concern, which bears every promise of a very successful future.

Perhaps you will kindly permit me to refer to a matter which I naturally have very much at heart.

Speaking as a Briton and as an old resident in this British Colony where Chinese and British interests are so closely bound up together, I would venture to urge the Directors of this Company to deal as largely as possible in British and in British Empire goods.

In support of this appeal of mine, I would urge the two following considerations: firstly, that British goods have a deservedly great re-

U.S. TO AID FOREIGN BONDHOLDERSPresident's New Venture.*SEMI-OFFICIAL INSTITUTION TO BE FORMED

New York.

It is understood that President Roosevelt will soon put in operation the Corporation of Foreign Security Holders, authorised in the Securities Act for the relief of American owners of foreign bonds, says the "New York Times."

Problems of organisation and operation of the new semi-official institution have been discussed recently by Mr. Roosevelt with Mr. Charles H. March, Chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, which has jurisdiction of the Securities Act.

The Corporation of Foreign Security Holders will deal directly with foreign Governments which issued or underwrote securities which were marketed in the country and are now in default. Efforts will be made to collect interest and principal amounts at the source.

In commenting upon the venture, Mr. March emphasised that the Corporation was not to represent the United States Government in its negotiations, but would act strictly as an agent for the individual holders of defaulted foreign bonds.

As soon as the President's signature has been affixed to the necessary proclamation, the corporation will be in a position to receive for registration any foreign security upon which an American citizen has been unable to collect interest or principal.—Reuter.

WORLD'S LONGEST TUBE RAILWAYLondon's £5,000,000 Link Completed.*ULTRA-MODERN STATIONS

London.

The Piccadilly Line of the tube railway stretches from South Harringay to Cockfosters, now that the last section of its new extension is open. This is a distance of 20 miles, and makes it the longest underground railway in the world.

Work on the extension from Finchley Park to Cockfosters—a rural "beauty spot" of former days—began three years ago. Some 3,000 men have been provided with employment, and the total cost has been some £5,000,000.

As each new station has been completed—all are of striking ultra-modern design—it has been immediately put into use. Altogether, it has been necessary to build four and a half miles of twin tunnels, not to mention viaducts, banks, cuttings and so on.

A speed of three miles in five minutes is now attained on some sections of the Piccadilly line.

Cockfosters, by the way, had one claim to fame—if a slender one—before it was brought into the public eye by the building of the tube.

The grandfather of Dick Turpin, the most famous of all the eighteenth century highwaymen, is said to have been the landlord of the "Rose and Crown," an inn not far from where the underground now runs.—Reuter.

Rockford, Illinois.

Henry Olson, who fled into hiding six years ago rather than serve a life term in prison for a crime which he did not commit, has won a $29,250 verdict for damages from the attorney who defended him. He charged that his counsel knew the guilty man and did not divulge the fact at the trial.

Olson charged that his defender, in a murder trial in 1927, knew at the time that two youths had committed the murder, but allowed him to be convicted and sentenced to life in prison for the slaying of a man who was shot in a robbery of his petro station.—Reuter.

LOCAL WEDDING YESTERDAY.Mr. A. B. Hamson And Miss Edith Wood.

At St. John's Cathedral yesterday the marriage was solemnised of Mr. A. B. Hamson, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hamson, of 4 Leighton Hill Road, to Miss Edith May Wood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Wood of Swatow. The Rev. N. V. Halward performed the ceremony and Mr. J. R. Luke, a schoolfellow of the bridegroom was best man.

The bride was given away by Miss H. D. Sawyer, Head Mistress of the Diocesan Girls' School, where until recently Miss Wood has been engaged in teaching.

The bridegroom is well-known as a local sportsman, playing cricket for the Craigengower Club and hockey as a member of the St. Andrew's Mamas team. He was educated at Truro College, Cornwall, where he was Captain of the College soccer XI in 1924 and one of the finest bats in the cricket XI.

A reception was held at Messrs. Lane, Crawford's, after which the happy couple left on their honeymoon trip, which will be spent at Macao, Canton and Swatow. On their return they will take up their residence at 3, York Road, Kowloon Tong.

putation throughout the world for their excellent quality and finish; and secondly that, whilst many other international exchanges at this time of world crisis have been rocketing up and down, the rate of exchange between our local dollar and the pound sterling has remained remarkably stable by comparison.

The Chinese Guests

Speaking in Chinese, Dr. Kotewall, who offered congratulations on behalf of the Chinese guests, said, among other things, that the Founders and Directors, by establishing this additional emporium at this time when the Colony's trade was not as good as it should be, had demonstrated in a very concrete manner their faith in the Colony. It was an example which might well be copied by others who have capital to invest in commercial undertakings in Hong Kong.

He heartily wished the Company the success which the Directors had earned by their courage and enterprise.

The Directors of the Company are the Hon. Sir Shou-son Chow, (Chairman), Messrs. Kan Tong-po, Fung Fook-tin, Chan Lim-pak, Wong Kwok-shuen, Li Tse-fong, Pun Hiu-cho, Chow Chi-nam, P. K. Kwok, Chan Tse-kai, Chau Yue-teng, with Mr. Chan Haar as general manager.

KIDNAPPING BIG "TRADE" IN AMERICAU.S.$650,000 Demanded In Five Months.*BUSINESS INCREASES*ROOSEVELT'S WAR ON CRIME*Determined To Stamp Out Kidnappers.*NEW POWER BEING DRAFTED

Washington.

President Roosevelt is determined to throw the full force of the Government behind the war on armed crime.

Aroused by the persistent series of kidnappings, he wants a super-relief force of Federal agents to assist local and state authorities.

Already, a staff is at work in the Department of Justice. Millions of dollars and more men are contemplated seriously by the Administration to beat down the traffic in human life.

Here, in brief, are the kidnapping demands of only the most notorious cases of five months in America. Charles Boettcher, Jr., Denver, Colorado, Feb. 12 . . . $60,000. Jerome Factor, Chicago, Illinois, April 15 . . . $50,000. Peggy McMath, Harwichport, Massachusetts, May 2 . . . $60,000. Mary McElroy, Kansas City, Missouri, May 27 . . . $30,000. William Hamm, St. Paul, Minnesota, June 15 . . . $100,000. John Factor, Chicago, Illinois, July 1 . . . $100,000. John J. O'Connell, Jr., Albany, New York, July 7 . . . $250,000. August Luer, Alton, Illinois, July 10 . . . Unannounced.

Peggy McMath's kidnappers were caught and the ransom money returned. Mary McElroy's kidnappers were caught—at least authorities say they got them all—and some of the money was recovered. Some of Boettcher's kidnappers and some of the ransom was taken by police.

John "Jake the Barber" Factor boasted that he paid no ransom for the return of his son, Jerome, but now a gang is supposed to be holding "The Barber," while the son anxiously tries to effect his release.

The Supreme Beauty Of SunsetSymbolical Of Life's Closing Moments*GOD'S MOST PLEASING WORK

(By A Local Padre.)

(This is another of the series of articles written exclusively for the "Sunday Herald" by a local Army chaplain.)

AS far as Hong Kong is concerned, fortunately or unfortunately, according to one's point of view.

the fact that this month sees the end of what is known as summer-time in England is a matter of little moment.

For us it means that the humidity will gradually get less, and the blazing heat give way to the coolness, which for so long we have been desiring.

When in England the clocks are put back, it means a great deal more than this. It means that the days have closed in, the cold winds of winter are on their way, frost and snow are in the offing—the blue skies will give place to the grey.

Ruskin, talking of the sky, once wrote that it was "that part of nature in which God has done more for the sake of pleasing man, and in order to touch him, than in any other of His works." And is that not true?

There is no scene on earth so fair or so wonderful that man cannot spoil it. Where the cataract leaps among the hills, he will build a power station to supply current to some distant town, but he cannot touch the heavens. In the very heart of some fairy glen he will proclaim the virtues of somebody's and plaster the gateposts in a country lane with the claims of some quack doctor, but above it all, it is God alone Who spreadeth out the heavens like a curtain, and in them He has set a tabernacle for the sun. Even in places where the face of the earth has no suggestion of natural beauty, the face of the sky redeems it from evil. Far above the squalor of a city's meanest street there burn the great fires of the setting sun.

Sunset Most Beautiful.

For of it all the glory of the sunset is chief. The dawn has its cold splendours, but not many of us are there to see it, when it is at its best. It is at eventide, when the work of the day is done, and the senses are able to respond, that God unfolds His glories in the Western sky.

"Of all the sights which one has seen, of architecture, of natural beauty or of rugged wonder, what remains in one's mind above all others are the memories of sunsets seen under all kinds of varying conditions. From the coast of Spain watching it setting over the Atlantic rollers, or going down in a ball of living fire across the island of Ceylon, as the cool breeze came up the setting sun.

ROME'S GLAMOUR RESTORED

MUSSOLINI'S VAST ENTERPRISE

RECREATING THE IMPERIAL CITY

(By Norman Hillson.)

WHATEVER the enemies or friends of Signor Mussolini may have, to say about Fascism, only the meanest-minded spirit could fail to pay tribute to the heroic efforts of Il Duce in recreating Imperial Rome.

He has succeeded where Garibaldi and the great Victor Emmanuel himself failed. He has persuaded the modern Italians that Rome is the real, the natural, the historical capital of Italy. He has focused the attention of the whole world on the Eternal City.

For several decades Rome had not played a prominent part in national life. Milan, Turin, even Florence had figured more largely in contemporary history. The capture of Rome and the isolation of the Pope did not succeed in striking the imagination of the Italian people in the way which might have been supposed among a nation so imbued with a sense of the historic past.

I think I am right in saying that until the coming of Fascism Rome did not live up to its true reputation—the city of tradition, the heart of the Roman empire, the seat of the successors of St. Peter, the nursing-ground of a culture which has spread throughout Christendom and beyond.

Colossal Work.

Even after the establishment of the Kingdom of Italy Rome was rather unkempt and uncared for. She had her majestic ruins, her unknowns in the dusty, rather basilicas, her palaces (some of looking rather tired), her picture galleries and triumphal arches. But there was no co-ordination in the vast capital. Mean streets, oblivious of any obstacle such as

Mussolini may be indicted of the charge of having made Rome rather obvious, perhaps a little blatant. But he can be excused on the ground that he has transformed the ancient city of the Caesars into the finest architectural museum in the world, and has also bestowed on the straggling city of the Seven Hills the appearance of a modern metropolis. No one visiting Italy to-day can fail to be impressed by the colossal tasks which Il Duce set himself and fulfilled—the two wonderful motor roads, the one at Monza, the other at Ostia; the new railway station at Milan, built on a site that Caracalla would have envied; the wonderful road bridges linking Mestre and Venice, the coastal road from Leghorn, and the new railway track from Rome to Naples. They were the concoctions of genius, and were carried out with the thoroughness that is the watchword of Fascism.

New Imperial Way.

Mussolini has made great changes, sweeping away acres of wretched slums and laying bare the original Roman city. He has driven the huge and imposing Imperial Way from his own palace at the end of the Corso to the beginning of the Appian Way, near the Arch of Constantine. The malicious say that, in order to give complete harmony to this new road, it was necessary to "manufacture ruins" at appropriate intervals among the neat grass plots. But if ruins were "manufactured," one must confess they are uncommonly good ruins.

Turning from these actual material improvements, those who knew Rome in pre-Fascist days must be impressed by a sense of cleanliness, which erstwhile was rather unkempt and uncared for. The surfaces of the street are admirable, a fact which the motorist takes full advantage of, for the Roman driver, like a Juggernaut, gave on to great houses and ters of the Fascist movement, you do not see many Black Shirts except at the Palazzo Venetia or the Palazzo Chigi (the Foreign Office). They are unobtrusive for the most part, possibly because they realise the hold they have on the Italian people. In my conversations with various Romans I heard no mention either of Fascism or Il Duce. Both have become a habit. You cannot call it resignation. Rather it is just a fact of daily life.

The fine courtesy which one always associates with Roman life not only remains in modern Rome. It even flourishes. Rome also boasted the best dressed and finest figures of men in all Italy. That also remains the same. Their women-folk still remain of two grades—the very poor and incredibly dowdy, the very rich and incredibly smart.

In the same way there seems no via media between hotels and restaurants. Either you sit down to bare boards and food of doubtful origin, or else you take your place in a smart restaurant (where prices are arranged accordingly) and eat exquisitely.

For the rest, Rome remains the most colourful capital in Europe, colourful not only because of the various shades and tones which months of baking sunshines give to the walls of houses and palaces, combined with the semi-equatorial vegetation and brilliant flowering shrubs, but also because of the population who walk the historic streets, kaleidoscope of the devout, soldiery and ordinary mortals.

A procession of young divinity students, in their black cassocks and enormous round hats, is followed by a group of officers, most marvellously tailored, with their huge capes and brilliant riding boots.

Bersaglieri and Alpini on leave from the North mingle with bishops and canons of the church. The various colours of the many international divinity schools give more impression to the canvas. And, above all, the bright clothes of the women, the shawls of the aged poor, and the smart gowns of those who look to Paris for their inspiration.

It is a wonderful picture, which no Fascist regime could ever change. Besides, I doubt if Mussolini wishes to change the Roman scene. He is far too much of an Italian with a sense of the past for that.

TO-DAY—TO-MORROW—TUESDAY.

A $6.60 Attraction

The laugh tornado that cost New Yorkers $6.60 a seat, now showing at popular prices. America's loveliest beauties; the most dazzling of spectacles; and comedy's peer funniest in the merriest myth ever told. A wonder of wonders!

EDUCATING CONEY ISLAND

King's English For Show "Barkers."

SCHOOL STARTED IN U.S.

New York.
The chances are that the holiday crowds at New York's famous Coney Island no longer will hear "Gather round, folks, and see this fire-eater do his stuff. Ain't he hot—I ask you, ain't he hot?"

A school has been started for the hundreds of "barkers" who daily show the attractions of the resort's side shows.

College professors are the instructors and the director of one of the largest amusement centres, says that those "barkers" who do not learn the King's English will be replaced.

"In the days of Barnum," he said, "it was the custom to have loud-mouthed soap box announcers, but there's no reason for them now. Those who tell the public about the attractions must do so in an intelligent fashion."

And the school is not for men alone. There are about 50 girl "barkers" on the boardwalk this season and they'll have to learn the King's English too.—Reuter.

POLICE TURN OUT TO CAPTURE BAT.

Five Women Arouse False Alarm.

Philadelphia.
Shrieks of five women aroused the neighbourhood, telephone calls brought police automobiles with screaming sirens, and half a dozen policemen dashed into the house with drawn pistols to capture the burglar that had been heard "all over the house."

But a blackjack turned the trick. One blow and the bat was slain.—Reuter.

The price of admission will be 20 cents.

MONEY-LENDERS ORDINANCE.

No Prison Sentence Proposed.

A Draft Bill to amend the law with respect to transactions with money-lenders will shortly come before the Legislative Council.

It is proposed to amend the Money-lenders Ordinance, 1911, by the addition of a new section providing that no person shall be imprisoned in execution of a judgment for the payment of money due to any money-lender or for the payment of money due in respect of any loan due to a money-lender.

LONG VACATION.

Supreme Court Office Hours.

The offices of the Supreme Court will be open daily during the Long Vacation from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., except on Public and General Holidays, when they will be closed entirely and on Saturdays, when they will be open till noon, subject, however, to the provisions of section 6 of the Supreme Court (Vacations) Ordinance, 1898, in so far as it relates to the Criminal Sessions.

The Long Vacation commences on Wednesday next, September 20, and terminates on October 17, both dates inclusive.

GIRL MUST SLEEP IN CHURCH.

"Evil Spirits" Tear Her Clothes To Pieces.

Sofia.

Unless Marie Gekoff sleeps in a church at night, evil spirits come and cut up her clothes, according to "La Bulgaria."

Marie is a pretty girl of 18 years and lives in the village of Clementinovo, Bulgaria. One morning she woke to find her clothes had been cut to pieces with scissors. This happened a second time and then her father, much alarmed, hid behind her bed to watch. Nobody came near the room, yet in the morning Marie's clothes were in shreds.

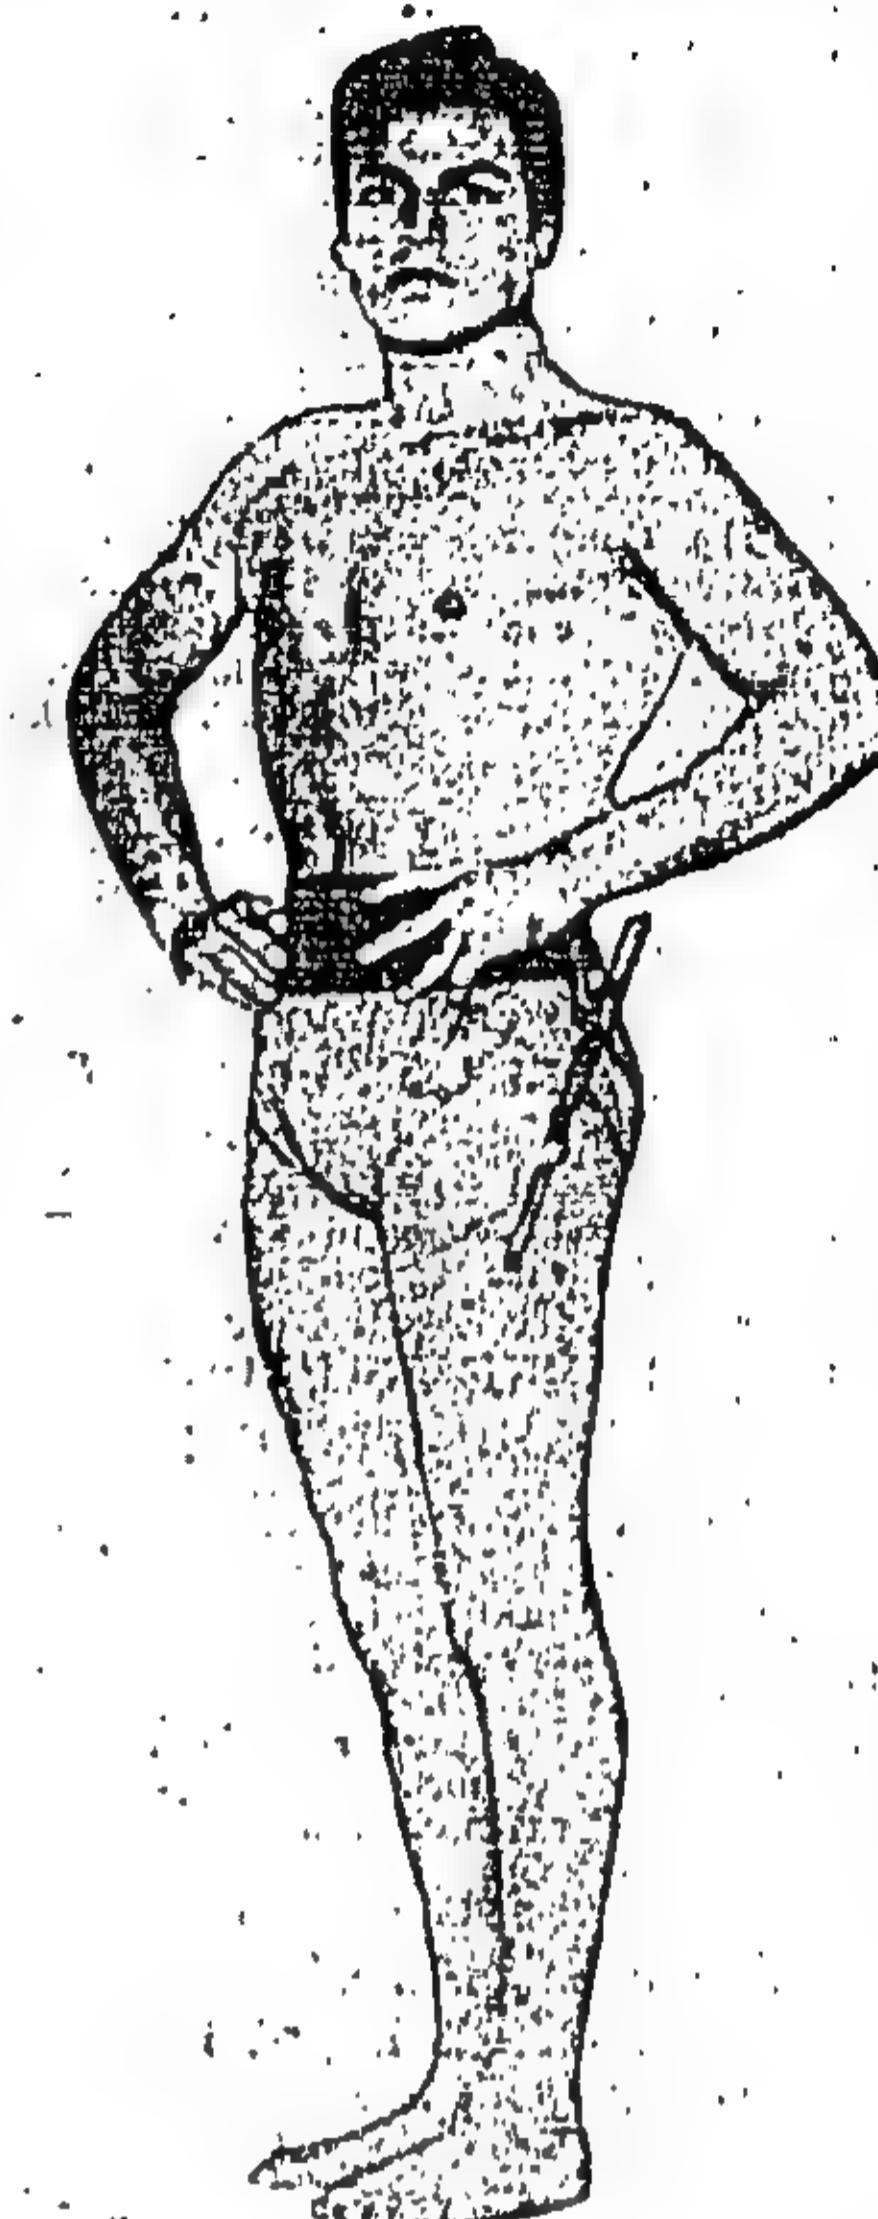

The girl went to sleep with neighbours, but the same thing happened. She tried leaving her clothes with neighbours who slept at home, but it was no use.

At last, reduced to her last frock, Marie went to sleep in the village church . . . and her clothes were untouched.—Reuter.

COLONY RECORD

In the Interport trials, in preparation for the visit of the Shanghai Y.M.C.A. to the V.R.C., Lionel Roza-Pereira won the 100 Yards Free Style from E. B. de Roza in a thrilling race to clock 60 3/5 seconds and also won the Back Stroke event from Lawrence, after a magnificent final spurt, in 76 seconds.

B. Gosano, the Interport footballer, caused a sensation when he won the 100 Yards Breast-Stroke in 80 1/5 seconds.

E. M. Marques, also upset forecasts by taking second place in 81 seconds.

H. M. Remedios, the club champion, made a false start and lost considerable ground before he could settle down. The race was the most exciting event of the evening.

In the water polo match between the V.R.C. and Chinese Athletic Association, the V.R.C. won by six goals to nil. Chan Sok Plu, the Chinese goalkeeper, played an exceptionally fine game, stopping shots from all angles.

Ambrose (2) and Lawrence scored in the first half, and Remedios (2) and Ambrose brought the score to six in the second half.

At the conclusion of the races the prizes were distributed by Mr. W. Logan, Vice-Chairman of the V.R.C., who congratulated Mrs. McMahon and Lionel Roza-Pereira on their success.

He remarked that Mrs. McMahon had established a new record for lady swimmers in the Colony and that her performance last night was the result of hard and consistent training.

FOUR RECORDS MADE AT S.C.A.A. MEET

The Men's 200 Metres Breast Stroke championship saw Kwok Chun-hang secure his first win in the championships and establish a new record of 3 mins. 3.1/5 secs., as against Chan Ki-chung's time of 3 mins. 16 secs. last year.

In the last event on the programme, Miss Young Sau-king clipped 5.2/5 secs. off her own record for 100 Metres Back Stroke.

Very Fine Performance

Considering that she was up against very poor opposition in Miss Leung Wing-han and her sister, Miss Young Sau-chun, her feat is a noteworthy one and deserving of great praise.

At the conclusion of the programme, Mr. Chan Lim-pak, J.P., made a short speech, in which he stressed the importance of aquatics and athletics, before presenting the prizes.

MOTORING NOTES.

AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION AGREEMENT

Local A.A. Granted New Facilities.

FEDERATED WITH BRITAIN

A copy of the Federation Agreement entered into by the Hong Kong Automobile Association with the Automobile Association in Great Britain, has been received.

The Automobile Association of Great Britain (A.A.) and the Hong Kong Automobile Association (H.K.A.A.) agree as follows:

1. The H.K.A.A. is entitled to adopt a modified form of the A.A. badge. Such modification and the wording to be used upon the badge to be mutually agreed.
2. The A.A. to accept individual members of the H.K.A.A. temporarily visiting Great Britain and Ireland for a subscription of £1.1s. to cover 12 months membership and to provide full membership benefits—the subscription for motor-cyclists to be 10/6d., entrance fee in both cases being waived.
3. The member of the H.K.A.A. may use his H.K.A.A. badge on British roads only on condition that the aforementioned subscription has been paid.
4. A member of the H.K.A.A. will, on joining the A.A., be supplied with Membership Card, telephone service key, handbook and other regular matter.
5. If convenient to all concerned, the H.K.A.A. will collect and remit subscriptions in advance to the London Head Office in a manner and at intervals to be arranged.
6. Members of the A.A. permanently resident overseas are entitled to retain their membership at an annual Supernumerary subscription of 10/6d. Such members are entitled, when visiting Great Britain and Ireland temporarily, to full membership benefits for a period not exceeding six months in the membership year then current. If a visit exceeds six months, the balance of the ordinary £2.2s. subscription for a car member and £1.1s. for a small car or motor-cycle member is payable. This arrangement will apply to an overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hong Kong, who is not also a member of the H.K.A.A. An overseas member of the A.A. resident in Hong Kong, who is also a member of the H.K.A.A. will be entitled, as an A.A. member, to six months full benefits in Great Britain and Ireland without payment of a further subscription, but if the temporary visit exceeds six months, a further 10/6d. only will be required, representing the special £1.1s. subscription rate available to members of the H.K.A.A.
7. In the case of a member of the H.K.A.A. who moves permanently to Great Britain or Ireland and wishes to support the A.A., the ordinary rates of subscription would apply, the entrance fee being waived.

In such cases,

(a) unless membership of the H.K.A.A. is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge would not be valid in Great Britain or Ireland and would be withdrawn. On being notified that the H.K.A.A. badge has been withdrawn, the A.A. will supply its own badge free on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

(b) where H.K.A.A. membership is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge may be displayed in Great Britain or Ireland in addition to the A.A. badge, which latter will be obtainable at the usual fee on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

The H.K.A.A. is entitled to publish the fact that it is federated with the A.A., the term "federated" implying that the H.K.A.A. and the A.A. are respectively independent, but bound by a resolve to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

This Agreement to take effect on signature by both parties and remain in force until determined by either party giving to the other six months previous notice in writing.

Oil And Petrol From Coal

Experts' Views Differ.

COST OF THE PROCESS

Eleven hundred delegates, drawn from all countries, attended the World Petroleum Congress which was held at the Imperial College of Science, South Kensington, forming the largest gathering of oil specialists and technologists yet held.

The most crowded theatre was that in which the hydrogenation of coal was discussed.

Mr. K. Gordon, of Imperial Chemical Industries, in an address on the hydrogenation of bituminous coal, said that good yields of light oil had been obtained from all British coals except anthracite.

Other aspects of the subject were discussed by Von Dr. M. Pier, Dr. W. R. Ormandy, Dr. Peck, Prof. Roberti, and Prof. H. I. Waterman.

In the debate which followed division was evident between those who supported the cracking of natural oil for petrol and those who placed faith in coal hydrogenation.

Advocates of natural oil held that the anti-knock quality of any petrol producible from coal could not equal the natural fluid.

In a paper read to the congress last night Mr. J. B. Aug Kessler said it was absurd that extremely low gasoline prices should indirectly, through excessive taxation, have been the means of focussing attention on the very expensive and therefore uneconomical process of hydrogenation of coal and lignite. Coal hydrogenation involved the construction of costly plant and equipment at a few points carefully chosen in relation to the sources of the raw material required.

ordinary rates of subscription would apply, the entrance fee being waived.

In such cases,

(a) unless membership of the H.K.A.A. is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge would not be valid in Great Britain or Ireland and would be withdrawn. On being notified that the H.K.A.A. badge has been withdrawn, the A.A. will supply its own badge free on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

(b) where H.K.A.A. membership is retained, the H.K.A.A. badge may be displayed in Great Britain or Ireland in addition to the A.A. badge, which latter will be obtainable at the usual fee on payment of the ordinary A.A. subscription.

The H.K.A.A. is entitled to publish the fact that it is federated with the A.A., the term "federated" implying that the H.K.A.A. and the A.A. are respectively independent, but bound by a resolve to further each other's interests and objects in all ways possible.

This Agreement to take effect on signature by both parties and remain in force until determined by either party giving to the other six months previous notice in writing.

FORD'S LEAD BIG IN WAYNE COUNTY

Detroit, Mich.

Sales of Ford V-8 cars and Ford trucks have taken a commanding lead in Wayne county, in which Detroit, the motor car centre of the world, is located. This may be taken as significant of the trend in motor car buying. Registrations for the first 24 days of June showed a total of 1,816 Ford cars and trucks. This is nearly twice as many as the nearest other make, which registered 963 units, while the second other make sold in the same period only 623 units.

FRIENDS & LOVERS.

Headed by a cast of distinguished players, including Adolphe Menjou, Lily Damita and Erich von Stroheim, "Friends and Lovers," a sumptuous dramatic talkie of high love, patriotism and friendship, opens to-day at the Central Theatre.

This RKO-Radio Picture, embellished by striking dialogue and vivid action, moving from London to Paris, to India, is a stirring photoplay. It tells the simple story of a woman, loved by two men who are comrades in arms in the British Indian service, but who find friendship greater than their loves. That, substantially, is the plot; but its development under the expert hands of Director Victor Schertzinger brings out the shadings of emotion which makes "Friends and Lovers" a thrilling talkie.

Lily Damita, as the woman whose beauty is the talk of London's drawing rooms; Erich von Stroheim as the monster who is her husband and who uses her for polite and exorbitant blackmail; Adolphe Menjou, as the lover whose affection she returns, and Laurence Olivier, as the young lieutenant who is another of von Stroheim's victims, all play magnificently, with a fine appreciation for the high dramatics of their roles.

The cast and story, and the direction, too, make "Friends and Lovers" one of the season's exceptional talkies; and as such, it should be seen by all means.
